

Veyrins Thuellin, March 15 2007

PRESS FOCUS

Mermet® weaves its web

A pioneer in solar protection, Mermet® is now spinning out new fabrics. Today marks the launch by Mermet®, a company which designs and manufactures technical coated fiberglass fabrics, of an interactive tool for use by all industry players.

Every user of this website, which presents the Modulight® range - architects, manufacturers of blinds, shades and partitions, textile manufacturers and printers, facade renovators, clients of construction or renovation work etc. - will appreciate its simplicity.

www.sunscreen-mermet.com

Any requirement – whether it be solar protection, tensile structures, signage, or acoustics – can be met by this complete range of intelligent fabrics built around Sunscreen® (transparent) and Blockout (darkening-dimming) fabrics.

With the possibility of searching by application, by internal or external use, or by colour, this new website enables all customers – whether connoisseurs or newcomers - of the Modulight® range to find, easily and in just a few clicks, the fabrics to suit their technical or artistic projects and, for solar protection, to refine their search using Modulight® Rapid'Selection.

This website, which has been designed for every type of user – French or International customers (the website has been translated into English, German and Spanish), private individuals and also journalists thanks to a secure press room – contains all the necessary information on Mermet® fabrics (references, work-in-progress, company news, sample scans, technical advice etc.)

For the first time ever the entire 2006-2009 Modulight® catalogue, presenting all the fabrics in the collection as well as technical information on each of them, can be consulted.

All that remains is to choose fabrics in order to receive samples, brochures and documentation!

For over fifty years Mermet® has been constantly striving for innovation and technical progress. By offering this new website, the company continues its development.

Contact information

Dépêches

Karine Carlet – Florence Le Berre

Tel: +33 (0) 437 490 202

Email: depeches@wanadoo.fr

